Rodney K. Rogers, Ph.D. '81, assumed the role as the 12th president of Bowling Green State University on February 23, 2018, after serving in the interim post since January 1, 2018. Prior to being named president, Rogers had served as provost and senior vice president since 2012 and, before that, dean of the BGSU College of Business since 2006. Rogers has a Ph.D. from Case Western Reserve University, an MBA from BGSU and a B.A. in music from Ohio Northern University. Before completing his doctorate at Case, he practiced as a CPA for 10 years.

Before joining BGSU, Rogers served as associate dean and director of academic programs within the School of Business at Portland State University, in Oregon. He has taught financial reporting, performance measurement and international financial reporting at various universities including Portland State, Case Western Reserve, Thunderbird: The American Graduate School of Management, and the École de Management at EuroMed-Marseille, in France.

As a faculty member, his research focused on the ways in which financial analysts use information, strategies firms employ to disclose information to the marketplace, and the institutional role of the accounting profession within the capital markets. He has published or presented over 30 papers in a variety of academic journals and conferences, including Accounting, Organizations and Society, Journal of Business Ethics, and Journal of Financial Statement Analysis. He was a visiting research fellow at the Cranfield School of Management in the United Kingdom from 2001-04.

Dr. Rogers is committed to continuing BGSU's upward trajectory as the campus continually evolves to meet students' needs and embrace the most current best practices in higher education. It is the University's mission to nurture intellectual and personal growth, creativity and the pursuit of excellence in a collaborative, mutually respectful environment.

President's Message

Just shortly after July 4th I was assaulted by a large aisle of crayons as I motored through Meijer. The cycle has begun again. And soon there will be a long line on the I-75 exit ramps as BGSU students return for another academic year.

The university has a new president, Dr. Rodney Rogers, who will begin to put his stamp on the institution as Ohio's state community colleges and universities look to prepare for the future and meet the need of this next generation. Dr. Rogers is the speaker at our September 10th Convocation luncheon at the Bowling Green Country Club. The reservation form is on page 12, so please join us for a good meal that includes DESSERT and a visit with the new president!

Remember, we are on a journey through our retirement years. As an organization the BGSU Retirees Association is here to help with this journey by offering social opportunities, learning and volunteering opportunities and a chance to keep friendships from our work life front and center. It also offers us a chance to make new friends, learn new skills and make our retirement years the best years of our lives.

Update on Faculty Senate by Ellen Williams, Representative for BGSU Retirees Association

March 13, 2018

Highlights from the March meeting included:

- Chair Dr. David Border initiated a round of applause to welcome Dr. Rodney Rogers (former Provost) as the new President of BGSU.
- President Rogers stated that he is honored to serve as the new President of the University. He noted that BGSU needs to embrace what it means to be a “public university.” We must engage externally to seek solutions for societal needs. We must provide programs that are of great importance and of high value to the general public. With a significant drop in traditional students (18 year olds) who will be attending college between now and 2015, we must focus on attracting nontraditional students to BGSU. The new President thanked faculty for all of their efforts to support the university and stated that he looked forward to working with the faculty on future endeavors.
- Dr. John Fischer, Interim Provost and Senior Vice President, thanked Cecilla Castellano and her team from Admissions for all of their efforts in recruitment, noting that the 2018 Freshman class is looking strong. Reinforcing President Roger’s comments, Dr. Fischer noted that we need to address the needs of post-traditional and non-traditional students in order to keep our enrollment strong. He stated that e-learning was one avenue for meeting the needs of this adult population and noted that there are over 1,000 students participating in the BGSU e-campus. We are working with the College of Business to develop an online MBA. We are working with Cedar Fair management and Firelands College to develop a new program/ degree in Resort and Attraction Management. This would be an interdisciplinary program and degree completion for Juniors and Seniors would include Cedar Fair internships.
- Dr. Paul Cesarini, Assistant Vice Provost for Online and Summer Academic Programs, reported on the new Winter session at BGSU. It will begin January 2nd, 2019. Students may take a maximum of 6 credit hours and will be able to choose from over 80 courses (85% undergraduate courses and 15% graduate courses) being offered.

Rogers shared that BGSU has been allocated $20 million from the state for infrastructure improvements. In a previous Senate meeting, President Rogers asked Senators to identify issues at BGSU they were most satisfied with and issues they were most concerned about. Rogers shared the following results of this brief survey. Areas that Faculty Senators felt most satisfied with included: promotion of student success, student engagement, cultivating global citizens, assisting students in job placement and successful collaboration with faculty on research. Areas that Faculty Senators felt most concerned with included: decreasing public support, trend of increasing adjunct faculty, moving toward an online model of instruction, increasing faculty to student ratio, and lack of transparency from the leadership team. ## Summary of Ohio Council of Higher Education Retirees (OCHER) Board Meeting

written by Roger Anderson

Roger Anderson and Karel King attended the OCHER Council meeting in Columbus at STRS Headquarters. President Nancy Wardwell opened the meeting. The treasurer's report showed a balance of $5,621.02 in the OCHER account as of May 22, 2018. The Council voted to provide $500 in dues to the Health Care Pension Advocates Board.

Michele Hobbs presented the OPERS Report. The following assumptions were adopted by the OPERS Retirement Board after consulting with the Actuary. The investment return rate assumed in the valuation of investments is 7.5% per year compounded annually. The wage inflation rate assumed is 3.25%. Considering other economic assumptions, the 7.5% investment return rate translates to an assumed real rate of return over wage inflation of 4.25%. The assumed real rate of return over price inflation is 5.0%

Gerald Newsom, OCHER Representative to STRS and HPA, gave his report. The trend is for public pension funds to reduce their assumed return on investments. In 2001 a return of 8% was most popular, but now most funds assume a return between 7% and 7.5%. The STRS rate of 7.45% is in the middle of most public pension assumptions. Health Care Pension Advocates has recommended "de-risking" investments to reduce the changes of further cuts in subsidies to retirees. Higher risk investments on average have higher rates of return, but they also have a greater chance of a large drop in value. Current retirees are likely better off with lower risk portfolios, while younger active teachers may prefer higher risk investments with greater returns. A decision on "de-risking" investments by the STRS Board will not be made until the end of the current fiscal year June 30th. On March 31, 2018 STRS investments had exceeded the 7.45% benchmark by .87%.

More good news on STRS health insurance was reported at the May HPA meeting. In 2017, changes in the formulae for health insurance subsidy saved $1.656 billion. Favorable claims experience saved $587 million, and stronger than expected investment returns saved $473 million. Changes to the Affordable Care Act saved $167 million. STRS staff recommended, HPA endorsed, and the STRS Board approved keeping the premiums for the Aetna Medicare Advantage Plan for retirees with thirty years of service at $127 a month for the fourth year in a row. Dental and vision premiums will barely change. The subsidy of $29.90 that STRS has been giving to Medicare retirees was supposed to expire at the end of 2018, but the improved finances of the STRS Health Care System allowed the subsidy to be extended through 2019.

HPA recommended a STRS staff proposal that retirees who received low earnings would have service credit calculated as earnings divided by $12,000. There was no consensus in HPA for a second STRS staff proposal to change the current rule that one can receive a full year of service credit by working full time for 120 days. The rule is used primarily by 12-month administrators who retire on January 1, university faculty who are on duty for summer and fall semesters and retire on January 1, or classroom teachers who retire on March 1.

Newsom said that successful lobbying of the legislature by OPERS retirees halted any chance of lowering the OPERS COLA this year. He said he was surprised initially at how little reaction took place from STRS retirees over the ending of the STRS COLA for five years. However, recently, pushback has been building from STRS retirees. At the last two STRS Board meetings speakers have been raising objections to the suspension of the COLA. More opposition in coming months is expected. Opponents have claimed that COLAS are guaranteed by the Ohio Revised Code. Ambiguity exists on whether this is the case.

Campus and retiree association reports were presented by representatives from the University of Toledo, Wright State, and Youngstown State.

Marla Bump, Director of Government Relations, gave her report. There has been no action in the U.S. Congress which has addressed public pensions. Bills in the Ohio State Legislature have not passed since the Republican caucus has been unable to elect a Speaker to succeed the Speaker who resigned (Rosenberger).

After lunch the OCHER Board heard from Greg Nickell, Director of Health Care Services. He presented the proposed Health Care Decision timeline for 2018: In June and August--review potential components of a health care funding management policy. In September--review the past year's pension funding policy and suggestions for a new health care funding management policy. In October--hear presentations of pension and Health Care Fund actuarial valuation reports by actuarial consultants. In November--have the annual education and planning meeting. In December--finalize decisions about health care funding management policy and discuss de-risking of Health Care Fund investment assets.

Nickell said the STRS Board has recommended that in order to satisfy next year's standard Medicare Prescription Plan, the out-of-pocket limit will increase from $5,000 to $5,100. There is no increase for 2019 in Aetna Medicare Advantage and Medical Mutual Basic Plans. There will be a $9 monthly increase for Medicare enrollees in AultCare and Paramount.
