CHAMBER CHOIR

La Guerre (The War) (La Bataille de Marignan) Clement Janequin

Listen, all gentle Gauls, to the victory of noble King Francis. You will hear, if you listen, blows thudding on all sides. Fifes, resound, beat the drums, turn and wheel, perform your manoeuvres, blow, play, beat, etc. (Drums always!)

Adventures, good countrymen, together cross your staves, bend and bow, noble Gascons, noblemen, leap into the saddle, lance in hand and ready as lions! Sackbut players, make your sound! Gird on your arms, gay squires, and lay on! Strike and shout the alarm!

Be bold and joyful, let each urge himself on, the fleurs de lys, the noble flower, is there in person. Follow Francis the French king, follow the crown. Resound, trumpets and clarions, to gladden your count-, your countrymen.

To the standard straight 'way advance spur on your mounts ye cavalry, etc.

Blast and boom bombards and cannons. Thunder great curtals and falcons to help our countrymen.

Courage, courage, strike your blows, pilfer, plunder, dub and leer. Kill! To the death! Take courage, Strike, kill. Gentle gallants, be valiant, Strike on, press on. Grind your steel, gobble them up. Alarm, alarm!

They are in confusion, they are lost. They are showing their heels! Pursue the cowards, the jangling rabble they are defeated. Victory to noble King Francis! Pursue: all is lost, by God.

And dwelt among us.

Fair spark of the gods.
