Helpful Documents for Using the American Community Survey (ACS) Files

The ACS Public Use Microdata Sample (PUMS) files represent a sample of the actual responses to the ACS questionnaire. The 1-year household PUMS data represents approximately 1.3 million housing unit records and the population PUMS data represents about 3 million person records. Due to their large size, the household and population record data are divided into two separate files each by state. Guides for using ACS data can be found on the CFDR website at this link.

Affiliates and Students: Acknowledgment Statement Required for Manuscripts and Presentations

Affiliates and students at NICHD-funded population centers are required to acknowledge population infrastructure support in all of their papers and presentations. Such acknowledgement is critical to convey the impact of federal funding on advances in research. If you have not already done so, please add this statement provided at this link to your manuscripts and presentations.
