

CFDR Update: December 2, 2016

Call for Papers: Journal of Research on Adolescence special issue

The Society for Research on Adolescents (SRA) is calling for papers for a special issue of the Journal of Research on Adolescence. The issue's focus will be "Processes of Religious and Spiritual Influence in Adolescence" and will be co-edited by Sam Hardy and Pamela Ebstyn King. Authors are encouraged to submit a proposal for their manuscript, in the form of a cover letter, by Dec. 5, 2016. Submission details are at this link.

Policy Fellowships at the Society for Research in Child Development

SRCD is seeking applicants for 2017-2018 Policy Fellowships. There are currently two types of Fellowships: Congressional and Executive Branch. Both Fellowships provide opportunities for researchers to come to Washington, DC and use developmental science outside of the academic setting to inform public policy. More information and application instructions are at this link. The application deadline is December 15, 2016.

PRB Opportunity: Policy Communication Training

The Population Reference Bureau is now accepting applications for the 2017-2018 cohort of the U.S. Policy Communication Training Program, which are due on January 27, 2017. Please see the announcement for eligibility criteria and instructions on how to apply. The program is designed to develop skills that U.S. researchers need to communicate with U.S. policy audiences, including decision makers and the media.

Save the Date! The CFDR Spring Symposium will be March 16, 2017

The CFDR's 2017 symposium will focus on generational divides across the life course. The symposium will take place on Thursday, March 16th in the Bowen-Thompson Student Union.
