Latin American and Latino/a Studies Conference
Thursday, March 28, 2013 | Bowen-Thompson Student Union

An all-day, interdisciplinary forum for presentations and discussions of BGSU students’ academic work.

Keynote presentation by

Dr. David Cleary

“Latin America and Globalization: What are the Environmental Implications?”

6:30-7:30 p.m. | BTSU Theater, 206

Dr. David Cleary is an environmental activist and specialist in the Amazon region. As a director at The Nature Conservancy, Cleary oversees conservation strategies for Latin America and global efforts to achieve eco-sustainable food security.

College of Arts & Sciences

Organized by the Institute for the Study of Culture and Society’s Latin American and Latino/a Studies Cluster

All events are free and open to the public.

Sky Bank Room, 201
8-9:15 a.m.
Performing Latino/a Identities across Genres
9:30-11 a.m.
Images of Nation in Maps, Photography and Literature
11:30 a.m.-12:45 p.m.
U.S.-Latin America Relations
1-2:15 p.m.
Voices of Central America
2:30-3:45 p.m.
Crossing Borders: Topics in Education & Immigration
4:5:15 p.m.
Gender, Race, and Nation in American Borderlands

BTSU Theater Lounge
5:15-6:15 p.m.
Reception

BTSU Theater, 206
6:30-7:30 p.m.
Keynote by Dr. David Cleary

The ICS Cluster is grateful for the support of The Nature Conservancy, the Department of Romance and Classical Studies, the Department of History, the School of Cultural and Critical Studies, and the School of Earth, Environment and Society.