I am pleased to recommend Roger Heminger for the Spirit of BG Award. Roger is a very dynamic and committed staff member here in University Advancement. Over my career in higher education I have never come across a colleague as kind, generous and thoughtful as Roger Heminger. Roger serves as the Records Management Supervisor for the Division of University Advancement (UA). Through his work he supervises both student and professional staff members. He approaches his work daily emphasizing the concept of team and the spirit of family. Roger completes his work at an exemplary level, but more impactful in my opinion, is the way his actions make his colleagues think and feel.

Roger consistently goes the extra mile to make individuals, regardless of status or stature, feel valued and appreciated. My ultimate goal for this nomination is to help Roger understand how important he is to our Division, and how much positivity and life he adds to our work environment. Roger is a selfless man who inspires others through his random acts of kindness and astounding

She is the first line of contact for current and prospective students for all three programs. It's imperative that this first interaction is engaging and that the student feels supported. This continues to be true as students go through the application process and continue throughout their graduate program. We can always count on Jen to provide a high level of customer service and support to students throughout their graduate academic career. In 1,000 words or less, describe why this person deserves recognition for the "Spirit of BG" Award:

For the past six years, Lisa and her daughter Emma have given up their Monday morning Martin Luther King, Jr. Day of Service holiday to come to the University and help prepare lunches for all the MLK day of service volunteers. Lisa is a great volunteer and getting a young teenager to help with such service may be a problem, but not for Emma. She loves to come and help. Her mother sets a wonderful example of service for her daughter and by them participating together in such an event has to make their time together even more special because others are benefiting from their efforts. Even with sub-zero wind chills, they came and had fun with the rest of the volunteers.

They each deserve to be awarded the "Spirit of BG" awards, but since Lisa is the only classified employee in the family, then Lisa should be recognized.

Thank you for helping identify Lisa and Emma, who has given so much to help others who are helping others.

In 1,000 words or less, describe why this person deserves recognition for the "Spirit of BG" Award:

Since Classified Staff Council has been organizing the lunches for the volunteers for Martin Luther King, Jr., Day of Service (9 years), Terry has been the best helper ever. She helped pick up the food in the beginning stages of this event when CSC had to purchase all the food. We would then put the lunches together in the Education Building and have students take the lunches to the BT Student Union for distribution. She always went above and beyond the call to serve.

I believe she deserves to be recognized for all of this before she retires from BGSU. A job well done is her legacy.

In 1,000 words or less, describe why this person deserves recognition for the "Spirit of BG" Award:

Jacqueline McIntosh, Senior Secretary in the Teaching and Learning Center is nominated for going the extra mile to ensure that our students are physically sustained with edibles throughout the semester: not necessarily for a cost to them.

The population of students we serve often comes from impoverished homes and lifestyles, or are just on a fast-paced living track. Nevertheless, Jackie maintains the TLC's beverage center with just a little more than milk and cookies. Jackie's rapport with students and her caring heart, ensure that students can receive food items like oatmeal, noodle cups, granola bars, crackers, cookies, and more. Although we accept donations to keep up the service, we understand when students cannot pay. This service is provided primarily through the generous hearts of the TLC staff, but Jackie is at the wheel! Demonstrating that extra-mile of care and concern that serves in the best interest of our students.
