

MAKE YOUR MOVE TO MAC

The College of Education and Human Development (EDHD) McDonald Hall Living Community (Mac LC) was designed for you. We have staff ready to keep you engaged and faculty mentors ready to help ensure your success as an education or human development major at BGSU. Your academics and relationships on campus are just as important to us as your living space. That's why we've incorporated events and programming that will keep your mind sharp and keep you socially aware, and it's all offered at no cost to you!

Parents:

You'll be glad to know that newly created programming – specific to the Mac LC – will run throughout the year, keeping your student engaged with roommates, planned guests and EDHD faculty mentors. Activities are timed to BGSU's academic calendar, national holidays and seasonal events happening in Bowling Green and nearby Toledo. From ice cream socials and cornhole tournaments to academic advising and study skills development, we have the bases covered.

SIGN UP TODAY!

If you're an EDHD major who would like to join the Mac LC, you will need to be an admitted student to BGSU and have paid your housing deposit. Enrollment in the Mac LC will open in the Spring semester and does not include any additional fees. Students wishing to live in the Mac LC must enroll in order to select a room within the community. Roommate requests will also be honored whenever possible.

Questions?

Contact: The Dean's Office, College of Education and Human Development
edhd@bgsu.edu | 419-372-7401

As a part of the Mac LC, you're in for a great ride, including:

On-Site Action

- Icebreakers
- In-hall advising sessions
- Social activities
- Local attractions in surrounding communities
- BGSU athletic events
- Student & faculty panels

Focus on First-Year Experience

- Introduction to YOUR university
- Defining community living standards
- Safety on campus and in our community
- Interaction with EDHD faculty mentors
- Healthy practices in stressful times
- Exam week prep

Education majors who wish to be a part of the Educators in Context and Community (ECCO) Living Learning Community, focused on delivering quality experiences and diverse field experiences for future educators, are also housed in McDonald and are welcomed and encouraged to join any or all Mac LC activities.

