

Spend Summer 2010 in Tours, France and Burkina Faso, Africa with Bowling Green State University

If you are a graduate student with a current BGSU contract as a teaching, research, or administrative assistant, you qualify for a unique opportunity to study French in Tours, France and Ouagadougou, Burkina Faso. BGSU will cover:

- Instructional and General fees for two months of study
- Housing while in France at the Technopole residence hall (host family housing is available for an additional fee)
- A partial waiver ($600) for Room and Board in Burkina Faso (a limited number of waivers are available)
- Airfare from Paris to Ouagadougou (only if you participate in both the June session in Tours and the 4-week session in Burkina Faso)

You will be responsible for the following costs*:

- Miscellaneous fees (i.e.-$25.00 application fee*, $175.00 administrative fee*, $50.00 Education Abroad fee, and $8.00 registration fee)
- Balance of room and board if participating in Burkina Faso module ($600)
- Passport and visa fees
- International Student Identity Card ($22.00)
- Airfare to and from France
- Meals while in France
- Pocket money for personal expenses
- Recommended immunizations

denotes non-refundable fees. Please note that all fees are subject to change by Board of Trustees*

You may study in France for two months (tentative dates: May 28-July 31), or combine one month in Tours with our 4-week program in Burkina Faso (tentative dates: May 28- July 25). In Tours, classes will be held at the Institut de Touraine, a private school for non-native speakers of French. In Burkina Faso, classes are arranged by the program and are held at a variety of locations. No prior knowledge of French is required or necessary; a placement test will determine the level of coursework in which you enroll. For participation in the 2 month Tours program, you will earn letter grades for 9-12 BGSU credits; for participation in the Tours and Burkina programs, you will earn 6 credits for each program, for a total of 12 credits.

This is an excellent way to enrich your cross-cultural knowledge while learning another language, at relatively little expense to you. It is a great opportunity to enhance your resumé as well.

Please note that if you are scheduled to graduate in May 2010 but elect to study abroad in Tours/Burkina Faso during the Summer, you must apply for August 2010 graduation. You may request to walk during the May ceremony but will not receive your diploma until after the August graduation.
