AWARD CALCULATION
GRADUATE ASSISTANTS AND GRADUATE FELLOWS
BOWLING GREEN STATE UNIVERSITY
2009-2010 ACADEMIC YEAR

As you compare your offer from Bowling Green State University with other schools we want to point out that your contract offer at BGSU includes full payment of the instructional and non-resident fee PLUS payment of the general fee during the period of your appointment. Many universities do not pay the general fee and require that students pay this from their own funds at the start of each semester. We hope you will review the information below carefully to help you understand the full value of the graduate assistantship contract, tuition scholarship grant and general fee payment included in your offer.

Ohio Instructional Fee and Non-Resident Fee Tuition Scholarship — $26,214*

Fees are based on 2008-2009 academic year rates for students taking 12 semester hours. Any increases authorized by the Board of Trustees in these fees will be covered. Students receiving an assistantship or fellowship during the academic year also receive a tuition scholarship grant covering the Ohio instructional fee and non-resident fee (but not the general fee) for the following summer. This scholarship is not transferable to a subsequent term.

Ohio Instructional Fee = $5084 per semester
$5084 x 3 semesters (Fall, Spring, Summer) = $15,252

Non-Resident Fee = $3,654 per semester
$3,654 x 3 semesters (Fall, Spring, Summer) = $10,962

*Ohio Residents Deduct $10,962

Payment of General Fee by BGSU - two semesters (estimated)

Note: Students with Academic Year Abroad contracts do not receive a general fee waiver – the general fee must be paid by the student. — $ 1,266

General Fee = $633 per semester
$633 x 2 (Fall, Spring) = $1266
