

AMY T. GREYSTONE

449 Manville Avenue, Apartment Z
Bowling Green, Ohio 43402

greyst@bgnet.bgsu.edu
(419) 373-1521

EDUCATION

Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio
Doctoral Candidate, Developmental Psychology, expected graduation August 2008, Ph.D.
Master of Arts, Quantitative Psychology, May 2005
Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio
Bachelor of Arts, Psychology, Summa Cum Laude, May 2003
Honors Thesis: The Effects of Parental Attitudes on Children's Eating Practices

RELEVANT EXPERIENCE

Teaching

- Taught two sections undergraduate adolescent psychology. Developed course syllabi, lesson plans, assignments and in-class learning activities for both the general course and advanced Honors course. Stressed interdisciplinary and critical thinking, clarity of writing, and debate. Evaluated essay examinations and research poster presentations.
- Employ various instructional and assessment strategies to foster student engagement and deep learning including reflective learning, field-based experiences, portfolios, essays, and independent research projects.
- Assisted with teaching for several other courses including general psychology, quantitative methods, and child development course by developing and delivering lectures, leading student discussion sections, evaluation of students' writing assignments, writing test questions, grading exams, and maintaining grade database.

Research Design, Data Collection and Analysis

- Worked with various data collection methodologies including questionnaire, interview, focus group, observational, ethno and interactive computer.
- Coursework in regression, analysis of variance, multivariate an interpretation of quantitative data, decision-making theories, item response theory, power analysis, judgment analysis, and research design.
- Have extensively used SPSS (IBM mainframe and Windows).
- Familiar with SAS, LISREL, Minitab, Systat, SuperANOVA, and Prophet statistical analysis packages.

AMY T. GREYSTONE

Page Two

Leadership and Teamwork

- Served as a mentor for six undergraduate psychology students during my five-year tenure at Bowling Green State University. Helped students develop their critical thinking, writing and research skills.
- Formed and directed a four-member research team that examined issues related to aggression and abuse. Team presented two papers at conferences and have three papers under review for publication.

EMPLOYMENT

BGSU Psychology Department	Bowling Green, OH
Graduate/Teaching Assistant	2005 – present
Research Assistant	2003 – 2005
Oberlin College	Oberlin, OH
Office Assistant, Department of Psychology	1999 – 2001
America Reads Tutor	1999 – 2001

ACADEMIC AWARDS AND HONORS

- Sigma Xi Graduate Research Award, Bowling Green State University, May, 2007
- Teaching Fellowship, Department of Psychology, 2006
- Who's Who in America Among Students in Colleges and Universities, May 2002
- Inducted into Psi Chi, Psychology Honor Society, November 1999

PUBLICATIONS

Tisak, M.S., Tisak, J., Goldstein, S., Greystone, A.T. (2007). How Do Young Children Misbehave In And Out Of The Classroom? The preschoolers' perspective. Early Education and Development, 16, 407 - 428.
Musher-Eizenman, Goldstein, S., Greystone, A.T. (2006). Acceptable Body Types Of Preschoolers And Their Mothers. Journal of Applied Developmental Psychology, 26, 249 - 262.

RESEARCH INTERESTS

Social Cognition and Social Behavior, Development of Moral and Social Reasoning, Psychology Measurement Theory and Models for Studying Behavioral Change