Dear Academic Team advisor:

The Bowling Green State University Academic Quiz Team is hosting the BRAVE Falcon '06 high school quiz bowl tournament on Saturday, November 18th, and we would be honored to have students from your school attend.

Students from all high schools are invited to attend and compete in teams of four. The tournament will ask questions of an academic nature in tossup-bonus or NAQT format using the NAQT IS-63A packet. In order to give all students valuable playing experience, teams will be guaranteed at least seven matches in the form of a round-robin followed by single elimination playoff brackets.

On November 18th, sign-in will start at 8:30 am with a light breakfast (bagels or doughnuts) served. Play begins at 9:30, so please arrive by 9:00 if possible. Lunch will be on-your-own. Several fast-food restaurants are within walking distance and campus dining halls will be open; we'll provide maps and suggestions. We anticipate that the tournament will be over around 4:15 pm, followed by a presentation of trophies and appropriate awards.

Fees for teams to compete are as follows: $70 for varsity teams and $50 for junior-varsity. $10 discounts are awarded for providing both working buzzer systems and experienced reader/moderators (1 discount of each category per team, but please bring more if available). Packets of questions from this tournament or last year's BRAVE Falcon are also available for $8 after the tournament. We ask that your registration be received by November 1. Teams may be accepted after that date at the discretion of the tournament director.

We sincerely hope that your team considers attending our tournament. The Academic Quiz Team hopes to provide a fun day of friendly competition, and we hope that our tournament provides a positive experience and promotes the sport of quiz bowl in our region. We work very hard to ensure a well-organized, fair, fun competition for all involved, and we hope that you will join us on November 18th. Questions or comments are encouraged and can be directed to Tim Cieplowski at (419) 214-5885 or at bgquizteam@yahoo.com
