Last month from 19-21 September, Army ROTC Cadets participated in a Leadership Training Exercise at Fort Custer, Michigan. During their first day of training, they completed day and night land navigation by using the navigating skills they learned during their leadership labs.

Day two of training for the Basic Course Cadets consisted of the Engagement Skills Trainer (EST), the live-fire range and the hand grenade assault course. Cadets learned the basic fundamentals of marksmanship and had the opportunity to qualify on the M-16 weapon system. Advanced Course Cadets completed the leadership reaction course, as well as the hand grenade course. The leadership reaction course tested Cadets' ability to lead and adapt while participating in team-building obstacles.

Marksmanship Awards

Basic Course Cadets qualified on the M-16 weapon system at the Fall Leadership Training Exercise. Cadets that qualify on their weapon are awarded one of three different marksmanship badges. Cadets that shoot 23-29 hits earn the marksmanship badge, 30-35 hits earn a Cadet the sharpshooter badge and expert badges are awarded to those that hit 36-40 targets. Army ROTC Club Updates

Pershing Rifles

Over the course of the semester, Pershing Rifles Company I-1 has been involved in a large number of events. I-1 has conducted a number of color guards, including the dedication of the POW/MIA chair at the September 6th Military Appreciation Day football game. The company has also attended home football games to fire the cannon and conduct push-ups in the end zone on BGSU scoring drives. On September 11, Company I-1 traveled to Perrysburg to perform a drill routine for a fundraising event. Currently, I-1 is spending much of their time training Cadets who wish to join the organization. This 8-week process trains the Cadets on Pershing Rifles history, Army tactics, and color guard and drill procedures. At the end of the 8 weeks, the Cadets will become official members of the military fraternity.

Ranger Club

This semester Ranger Club has focused on preparing for the Bold Warrior Competition. They got off to a quick start, conducting extra physical training to determine those who will be on the team. One area of focus has been preparing for the one rope bridge event. This is an event in which our nine-person team must navigate a stream utilizing swiss seats and one rope. Each team member will use their swiss seat to hook into the rope and navigate from one side of the stream to the other. Ranger Club has also conducted 9-line Medevac training. The purpose of this training was to ensure each Cadet understands what is needed to request a Medevac in an emergency situation. The club’s plans for the future include continuing to conduct physical training and diving down into tactical operations in preparation for the competition.

Royal Greens

In the last few months of being back in school, Royal Greens has completed several community service projects. One of their first events was on September 26th, working the Wine and Cheese festival fundraiser for the Bowling Green Parks and Recreation Department. That same weekend they had several members go support the Susan G. Komen 5K in Toledo. Royal Greens also has helped BGSU’s campus with the Homecoming Parade on October 3rd along with completing a highway trash pickup October 5th. They have many more events coming up later this semester such as; Relay for Life, another high way trash pickup, and the Kiwanis Pancake Breakfast.
Physical Fitness Test Awards

Every semester Cadets take the Army Physical Fitness Test (APFT) which consists of three events; a two mile timed run, two minutes of sit-ups and two minutes of push-ups.
