

MASTER OF ORGANIZATION DEVELOPMENT

Why a master's degree in Organization Development?

Today's competitive economy is forcing organizations to become significantly more adept at change. Faced with these demands, organizations are looking for educated and experienced leaders. A Master of Organization Development degree provides graduates with a solid foundation in a variety of areas equipping students with the tools to improve the performance of individuals and organizations.

Why the Master of Organization Development at BGSU?

The MOD program at BGSU was founded over 40 years ago as one of the first master's degree programs of its kind. It maintains recognition as one of the most prestigious organization development graduate programs of its kind in the world.

BGSU's graduate business programs have been included on The Princeton Review's list of Best Business Schools for the last ten consecutive years. The College of Business Administration is accredited by the Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business International (AACSB), the pinnacle of accreditation in business education.

Learning outcomes

- Study within a cohort-based program promotes the building of long lasting relationships and extensive networking among students
- Fosters an overall business orientation that applies to both profit and nonprofit organizations within a variety of industries
- International study abroad trip included in the curriculum
- Accredited by AACSB International

Professional opportunities

MOD graduates are prepared for work in a variety of fields including business, education, health and human services, and technology. Recent graduates are in positions such as human resource directors, training managers, risk management directors, organizational leadership specialists, service coordinators, national sales directors, and business operations coordinators, just to name a few.

Many of our graduates have also pursued a research path and have gained entrance into doctoral programs at schools including Benedictine University, Colorado State University, Antioch University and Bowling Green State University.

"The EMOD program at Bowling Green State University was the most impactful learning experience of my career. Not only did I increase my technical knowledge and capability, but perhaps more importantly, I grew as a leader and a person overall. Ultimately, this experience was instrumental in my ability to achieve my dream job! I will forever be grateful for this life-changing experience, and the life-long relationships I gained!"

Admission requirements

Applicants must hold a four-year undergraduate degree from a regionally accredited institution. The program strongly recommends that applicants have a minimum 2.7 undergraduate GPA. Applicants are required to submit scanned copies of official or unofficial transcripts from all institutions attended. Upon admission, final official or notarized copies of transcripts from all institutions where degrees were earned and diplomas from international institutions must be submitted. Applicants are also required to submit official scores from the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) or the Graduate Record Examination (GRE).*

All applicants must submit one nomination form, a current resume, and a statement of purpose. A minimum of 3 years of full-time management or professional experience is required. Diversity of educational backgrounds and career patterns is also a consideration for admission to this program.

International applicants are also required to submit scores from the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) or the International English Language Testing System (IELTS).

**Applicants with ten or more years of professional work experience, at least five years of significant management capacity, and an undergraduate grade point average of at least 2.8 on a 4.0 scale may be eligible from an exemption from the GMAT/GRE. Applicants with a master's degree from a regionally accredited US university may also be eligible for an exemption from the GMAT/GRE. Please contact the department for more information.*
