

MASTER OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

Why a master's degree in Business Administration?

The Master of Business Administration (MBA) offers a broad curriculum that provides graduates with an understanding of the major business disciplines, as well as the opportunity to pursue a formal area of specialization. These areas include Accounting, Finance, Strategic Communications, and Supply Chain Management.

Why an MBA at Bowling Green State University?

BGSU's graduate business programs are nationally recognized for their excellence in teaching and innovation. The MBA program continues to be selected as one of the best by The Princeton Review's Best Business Schools, having been included all ten years the rankings have existed. We have the second highest rating in Ohio for The Princeton Review's Academic Experience and Admissions Selectivity category. We are also ranked among the best part-time MBA programs in US News & World Report.

BGSU's College of Business Administration is one of only 178 programs in the world whose business and accounting programs are accredited by AACSB-International, the "gold standard" of accreditation.

Learning outcomes

Graduates of the MBA program will possess factual knowledge through the required courses, including fundamental business principles, generalizations and theories. Further, MBA graduates will be adept at applying course material in a multitude of problem solving and decision making contexts. Key areas of skill development include broad creative capacities, oral and written communication skills, and the ability to work with others as a member of a team.

The program also trains students to find and use resources for answering questions and solving problems, while learning to analyze and critically evaluate ideas, arguments and differing points of view. Graduates will demonstrate a clear understanding of, and commitment to, professional ethics, standards and codes of conduct.

"I wouldn't be where I am today if it weren't for the MBA program at BGSU. I manage a group of compliance associates and oversee the compliance of over $60,000,000 worth of payables each year (growing at a rate of 80 percent each year). The MBA program at BGSU gave me the tools I needed to succeed within a company constantly changing due to hyper-growth."
