Halloween Costumes

Why not reuse an old costume? Or make something simple using clothes and props you might already have? Save money and the environment! For inspiration visit instructables.com!

Sustainably Sourced Closet!

Fall fashions are in season and if you're feeling like sprucing up your wardrobe, why not consider thrifting?

- Goodwill off North Main St. and The Fringe Thrift Store (located in the Woodland Mall) are good places to explore for pants and sweaters.
- Visit the ReStore located in McDonald Hall Annex for fall fashion, home decor and more! Keep an eye out on our socials for when we are holding events!
- Online thrifting sites such as ThredUp and Poshmark are great places to look for good deals as well!

Why Reuse?

Over 100 billion new garments are made every year.

One new item of clothing takes 77 gallons of water to make.

1 in 2 people throw their old clothes straight into the trash. 73% of apparel is sent to the landfill or incinerated. 95% of which can be reused or recycled.

By buying 1 used item you are reducing its carbon, waste, and water footprints by 82%.

Every October, in celebration of campus sustainability in higher education, colleges and universities organize events to engage and inspire students to become agents of sustainable change. Join BGSU and thousands of other organizations across the world in conversation about sustainability. BGSU Campus Sustainability Week will be October 15 - 21!
