

CFDR Update: April 8, 2011

Workshop: Using ACS Data to Measure Cohabitation - Monday, April 11

Instructor: Ryan Bogle

Monday, April 11, Noon-1:00 pm

CFDR/NCFMR Conference Room

NIJ Visiting Fellows Program – Applications due by April 28

NIJ is seeking applications for both Research and Policy Fellows. This is an opportunity to both pursue your own research/writing and to participate in a wide range of collegial work with the NIJ Director and staff.

<http://www.ncjrs.gov/pdffiles1/nij/sl000966.pdf>

Congratulations to Tara Warner and David Warner!

Tara Warner and colleagues Ray Swisher, Jorge Chavez and Danielle Kuhl won an award at the annual PAA meeting for their poster, “Beyond a Variable-Centered Approach to Place: Identifying and Assessing Neighborhood Typologies.” Research affiliate David Warner (Case Western) also won an award at PAA for his poster, “Racial/Ethnic and Gender Trajectories of Functional Impairment: Exploring Between- and Within-Group Heterogeneity.”

NIH Releases Strategic Plan for Obesity Research

NIH is encouraging diverse scientific investigations through a new Strategic Plan for NIH Obesity Research, released March 31st. Information on funding opportunities, including lists of NIH obesity-related research solicitations, is available at this link. View or request a free copy of the summary or complete Strategic Plan for NIH Obesity Research at <http://www.obesityresearch.nih.gov/About/strategic-plan.htm>.

Instructional Software for BGSU Faculty – Requests due by April 18

To request new software or additional licenses for existing software please refer to the Academic Software Advisory Committee (ASAC) web page. Details regarding the project time line, application process, application form, review criteria and a listing of ASAC committee members can be found at this link:

www.bgsu.edu/offices/cio/software_request/index.html

Summer Employment Opportunities – 2011 Graduate Recruit Program

The Congressional Research Service (CRS) is recruiting the nation's top graduate students to apply for its 2011 Graduate Recruit Program. The program is open to students currently enrolled in any year of an advanced degree program or graduating during the 2010-2011 academic year who have the desire to assist Congress with its deliberations and legislative decisions. A complete listing of positions, eligibility requirements, and salary information is available on the CRS Careers website: <http://www.loc.gov/crsinfo/opportunities/op-grad-recruit.html>. Applications must be received by April 29, 2011.
