

CFDR Update: November 9, 2012

---

Congratulations to Ken Pargament!

CFDR affiliate Dr. Kenneth Pargament, professor of psychology and Distinguished Scholar at the Institute for Spirituality and Health at the Texas Medical Center, won the 2012 National Samaritan award. The award honors individuals who have made significant contributions to human health and growth. According to the Institute, Pargament is “a leading figure in the dramatic resurgence of attention to the vital connection between religion and mental health through his research, writing and worldwide consultation.”

---

Using Arrays in SAS and Stata Workshop – Wednesday, November 14th

Instructor: Hsueh-Sheng Wu

Wednesday, November 14, noon to 1:00 pm

CFDR/NCFMR Conference Room, 7C Williams Hall

---

American Sociological Association 2013 Annual Meeting – Call for Papers

The paper submission site for the 2013 Annual Meeting will open December 7. The theme of the meeting is “Interrogating Inequality: Linking Micro and Macro” and it will take place August 10-13, 2012 in New York City. Submissions are due by January 9, 2013. Visit the 2013 Call for Papers guide.

---

Creating Journal Quality Tables

Need help with creating tables in Word or Excel? Detailed instructions, including how to embed an Excel table into a Word document, are on the CFDR website at this link:

<http://www.bgsu.edu/organizations/cfdr/page34547.html>.