

CFDR Update: April 22, 2022

2022 Add Health Users Conference

Registration is open for the 2022 Add Health Users Conference on Monday, July 11, and Tuesday, July 12, 2022, in Chapel Hill, North Carolina. Registration is free and available until June 17, 2022. Information on the plenary and methodology sessions are now available; the preliminary agenda will be available in May. For conference updates and additional details, including hotel accommodations, visit the conference website.

Call for Abstracts: Population and Development Review

PDR seeks abstracts for potential contributions to a special issue addressing population challenges in the 21st century. More details are at this link: Call for Abstracts for special issue on population challenges in the 21st century. Deadline: July 1, 2022.

Call for Papers: Contemporary Perspectives in Family Research Book Series

Contemporary Perspectives in Family Research is seeking manuscript submissions for a special volume: "Cohabitation and the Evolving Nature of Intimate and Family Relationships." This volume is being edited by Yongjun Zhang and Sampson Lee Blair. Additional information about the book series can be found: CPFR-2022-Cohabitation-Call-for-Papers.pdf. Deadline: September 30, 2022.
