CFDR Update: September 2, 2022

De Jong Lecture in Social Demography – September 16
Dr. Marcy Carlson, University of Wisconsin-Madison, will be the guest speaker at Penn State’s 2022 De Jong Lecture in Social Demography. In her presentation titled, Generational Overlap: Changing Demography and Shared Lifetimes,” Dr. Carlson will consider how changing demographic patterns shape the prevalence of generational overlap, especially for children and grandparents. Click here for more details and to register.

Congratulations to Wendy Manning, Monica Longmore, and Peggy Giordano!
Drs. Manning, Longmore and Giordano received funding from the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health & Human Development for their project titled “Data Archiving a Longitudinal Cohort: Toledo Adolescent Relationships Study.”

Speaker Series – Wednesday, September 14
Father Involvement and Gender Equality in the United States: Contemporary Norms and Barriers
Richard Petts, PhD
Department of Sociology, Ball State University
Wednesday, September 14, 12:30-1:30 pm

Affiliates and Students: Acknowledgment Statement Required for Manuscripts and Presentations
Affiliates and students at NICHD-funded population centers are required to acknowledge population infrastructure support in all of their papers and presentations, including those in which the first author is not a CFDR affiliate. Such acknowledgment is critical to convey the impact of federal funding on advances in research. If you have not already done so, please add the statement provided at this link to your manuscripts and presentations.