CS 3900 : INTERNSHIP IN COMPUTER SCIENCE

Semester Hours: 3.0
Contact Hours: 3
Coordinator: Jong Kwan "Jake" Lee
Text: N/A
Author(s): N/A
Year: N/A

SPECIFIC COURSE INFORMATION

Catalog Description:
For students working in internship. Students must be registered for CS 3900 during completion of internship. Written reports and supervisor evaluation required. Does not apply to minor in Computer Science. May be repeated up to six hours. Prerequisite: consent of department. Graded: S/U.

Course type: REQUIRED

SPECIFIC COURSE GOALS

- I can contribute to individual and/or team projects
- I can utilize current technologies to solve real-world problems
- I can communicate effectively with co-workers and supervisors
- I can independently learn new technologies
- I can understand and demonstrate professional and ethical best-practices in the workplace

STUDENT OUTCOMES ADDRESSED BY THIS COURSE

- B.4 Understand the impact of professional, ethical, and social issues in computing
- B.6 Communicate effectively with a range of audiences using oral, written, and electronic mediums
- B.7 Contribute effectively to professional teams in order to accomplish a common goal
LIST OF TOPICS COVERED

- N/A (Vary by internships)