

School of Cultural and Critical Studies

Adjunct Instructor Position(s)

Details: The School of Cultural and Critical Studies at Bowling Green State University seeks strong applicants for part-time teaching assignments in the areas of: American Culture Studies (ACS), Ethnic Studies (ETHN), Popular Culture (POPC), Women's, Gender, and Sexuality Studies (WS), Public History, and Cultural and Critical Studies (CCS). In their letter of application, applicants should clearly identify specific courses and general field(s) which they are qualified to teach. Successful candidates may teach introductory courses in these fields including Introduction to Asian American Studies (ETHN 1300), Black Popular Culture (POPC 1700), Introduction to Folklore and Folklife (POPC 2200), Introduction to ETHN (ETHN 1010), Introduction to African American Studies (ETHN 1200), Introduction to WS (WS 2000), Introduction to ACS (ACS 2000), Cultural Pluralism in the U.S. (ACS 2500), and Introduction to Popular Culture (POPC 1600). These courses may be face-to-face and/or online/distance. Qualified applicants may also be offered part-time teaching assignments in more specialized undergraduate and graduate courses in these units, including courses that contribute to the Public History graduate certificate such as Historical Society Administration (ACS/HIST 6570) and Museology (ACS/HIST 6540). Starting date of employment is August 2020.

Qualifications: Ph.D. in relevant discipline preferred. Minimum requirement is an M.A. Evidence of successful teaching at the collegiate level is preferred. For Public History positions, professional experience in the field is strongly preferred, and necessary for applicants without a Ph.D.

Application: Applicants should submit the following materials electronically to Amy Davidson, amyd@bgsu.edu, using the Subject Heading 'SCCS PT Faculty Search':

- 1) letter of application outlining qualifications relevant to this position – Candidates are asked to clearly identify the specific courses and fields within the School of Cultural and Critical Studies that they are qualified to teach in the first paragraph of their letter
- 2) full curriculum vita
- 3) copies of transcripts indicating highest degree earned

In addition, two current (dated within the past year), original letters of reference must be sent directly from the recommender or a dossier service like Interfolio to Amy Davidson, amyd@bgsu.edu,

Questions? Contact Dr. Susana Peña, School Director, at susanap@bgsu.edu. Unless applicants request otherwise, applications will be kept on file for openings that may arise in future semesters.

Finalists will be required to submit official copies of transcripts indicating highest degree earned, and asked to authorize and pass a background check prior to offer of employment.
