

Stellenbosch University

Our colleague, Dr. Birgit Schreiber, at University of the Western Cape has taken on a new post at Stellenbosch University as Senior Director of Student Affairs. She will provide internships for 1-2 students. The responsibilities are not yet confirmed, but I have worked with her in the past and the staff have always worked with our students to design an experience to meet you and the university's needed. Dr. Schreiber is also very active in South African and International communities in student affairs.

Internship Description:

If you are interested in going to South Africa for the summer, please complete the application and CV. This internship will be very similar to expectations and compensation at the University of the Western Cape; the institutional context will be very different. (UWC and US are roughly 30 minutes from one another by car.)

Description at UWC for general understanding:

During your first week, you will participate in orientation activities with the LSR team. After you receive an overview of each staff member's portfolio of responsibilities, you will work together with the team to identify projects that you would like to work on during the internship. Historically, BGSU interns have focused on the following projects in LSR:

- Facilitating workshops and programs on campus and throughout Cape Town for two leadership development programs: Emerging Leaders Programme (ELP) and Advanced Leaders Programme (ALP)
- Coordinating programs associated with Mandela Day
- Preparing the Enactus student group (<https://www.facebook.com/EnactusUWC>) for the national competition and traveling with the students to the national competition in Johannesburg
- Assisting LSR team members with community engagement activities
- Attending and participating in Center for Student Support Services and LSR meetings
- Editing LSR reports

The LSR team is mindful of providing BGSU interns with fruitful experiences throughout the internship. Often, LSR staff members will invite you to meetings, programs, and events on campus and throughout the Cape Town area that do not necessarily relate to the above responsibilities.

Background Information:

Students who work in South Africa must understand the complex history of South Africa in order to comprehend the contemporary landscape of the higher education system. The function of apartheid, which literally means apartness, was to entrench White supremacy in South Africa. During apartheid, the government segregated the country into four racial categories: White, Coloured, Indian, and African.

The use of the term, Coloured, in the context of South Africa is not synonymous with the term, colored, in the United States. In South Africa, Coloured refers to a racial identity group. Throughout the 18th and 19th centuries, European merchants, settlers, and immigrants commingled with the native people of southwest Africa and the diverse enslaved populations from Africa and Asia. Originally, Coloured was a racial category that described individuals who were neither White nor Black African.

UWC was established as an institution for Coloured students during apartheid. US was an Afrikaans institution. Similar to South African society during apartheid, the public higher education system was segregated by race. By 1985, 19 public universities were created exclusively
