Greetings from the new Bowling Green Student Development Association!

A new executive board took over the BGSDA at the beginning of the spring semester, led by Dr. Marjorie Walker. The board has been busy preparing for many events and programs.

As the year comes to an end, we’d like to introduce the executive council members:

- Danny Boothby, president;
- Rachel Lemen, vice president;
- Dena Donabedian, secretary;
- Annette Langer, treasurer.

The board meets bi-weekly to discuss BGSDA business and volunteer opportunities.

Through the hard work of the new council members, we are looking forward to many exciting events this semester, including:

- The 2010 Alice Manicur Symposium;
- The 2010 NYA Conference;
- The 2010 NASPA Student Development Conference.

We will have special displays at our annual networking events at the ACHA and NASPA conferences.

Please feel free to stop by the board meeting anytime to hear about our events and developments.

Finally, please mark your calendars for the big events that will take place in July 2010.

The Back to School Bash will be held on Thursday, July 29th at 6pm. This event will include an open house and networking event with our faculty and friends to talk about information about professional practices and engage you in enjoyable activities.

The second event will be the annual Fall Welcome Weekend on Saturday, August 28th. This event will include an open house and networking event with our faculty and friends in a way that will include information about professional practices and engage you in enjoyable activities.

The department of Higher Education and Student Affairs is celebrating the 10th anniversary of the College of Student Personnel.

The new executive board is planning many events to honor those who have made BGSDA successful, including:

- The Alumni Professional Development Fund Award;
- The Alumni Scholarship Fund Award;
- The Alumni Achievement Award;
- The Alumni Leadership Award.

Please mark your calendars for these exciting events and continue to stay in touch with your friends and colleagues in the field.

Thank you for your support and encouragement. If you have questions, concerns or ideas, please email alumnipro@bowlinggreen.edu.

Sincerely,

Dr. Mark Stephen
Dean of the College of Education and Human Development
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0244

Alumni News Update (change of address and name)

Please note the following:

- You can now keep your email up to date using the今年 of Graduation

Thank you for your continued support!

We hope that you will continue to stay in touch with us.

Sincerely,

Dr. Mark Stephen
Dean of the College of Education and Human Development
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0244

Notes

- For your personal or research or job-search needs.
- By the University (e.g., student organizations, programs, etc.).
- The Giving Fund is a donor-supported program that provides educational materials for the needs of the HIED program that is not covered by the University (e.g., student organizations, programs, etc.).

Contributions are tax deductible.

Please make checks payable to BGSU through alumni like you. Please recommend our programs? Many of our current students find their way to BGSU through alumni like you.

REMEMBERING Heather Anuario

On Nov. 29, 2009, the HESA community suffered a significant loss with the passing of Heather Anuario, a second-year HESA student who served as the graduate coordinator for academic and professional programs in the HESA Office of Educational Leadership.

Her passing has left a void in our community and will be remembered for her passion, commitment, and dedication to the field.

To honor her memory, a scholarship has been established in her name.

- Fayetta M. Paulsen Award.

We hope that you will continue to stay in touch with your friends and colleagues in the field.

Thank you for your support and encouragement. If you have questions, concerns or ideas, please email alumnipro@bowlinggreen.edu.

Sincerely,

Dr. Mark Stephen
Dean of the College of Education and Human Development
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0244

News I would like to share with the program:

- Ways to pick up the phone or email us to let your personal contact information or your student contact information.
- Ways to let your personal contact information or your student contact information.
- Ways to contact the phone or email us to let your personal contact information or your student contact information.

Spread the word!

Are you aware of a professional colleague or a prospective student who would be a great fit for the unique professional development program? Many of our current students find their way to BGSU through alumni like you. Please recommend our programs to potential students. For more information, visit the HESA Office of Educational Leadership's Facebook page or email the HESA Office (hesa@bgsu.edu) for information on connect (which is available on our website).

Sincerely,

Dr. Mark Stephen
Dean of the College of Education and Human Development
Bowling Green State University
Bowling Green, OH 43403-0244
Making plans to attend tomorrow's receptions.

As the conference comes to a close, I must begin to tidy up your plans for the evening. But first, I want to welcome you to your annual ACPA/CAPPA conference meeting and thank you for your patience and understanding. Now, let's get to the business of the day.

Thank you NPIT Mock Interviewers.

Two sides to a legacy

Back in 1978, when I was attending Carney's Student Development Theory class (I don't think any other class in my college career ever captured my interest or engaged me as much as my courses in student development theory), I learned that the client would pay for my breakfast as a business expense, she was astounded

THE "OTHER" SIDE OF THE STORY

How did this happen? Hard to know, but I think I can explain it...I'm the incredible people get what you're in higher ed, namely, free food, coffee and toiletries. So I'm inventing my own version, too, less a free show, more a favor to you. In the end, it was to help me sell the idea that professional development, career advice, and, surprisingly, homework issues (he can still recall all seven vectors!).

Although I am still in denial, my friends and family often tell me that I am following my father's career path in higher education. Although I am still in denial, my friends and family often tell me that I am following my father's career path in higher education. Although I am still in denial, my friends and family often tell me that I am following my father's career path in higher education. Although I am still in denial, my friends and family often tell me that I am following my father's career path in higher education.