Where to Get Immunizations
Options for Bowling Green State University Employees

In addition to your primary care physician, you can get the vaccines you need each year at pharmacies, grocery stores and other commercial retailers across Ohio.

Vaccines typically available at pharmacies include those for hepatitis A and B, human papillomavirus (HPV), influenza (flu), shingles (herpes zoster), pneumococcal disease (e.g., pneumonia, middle ear infection, sinus infection) and more.

Through your employer, Bowling Green State University, you can visit one of these convenient locations to get your vaccinations:

- CVS
- Discount Drug Mart
- Falcon Health Center
- Giant Eagle
- Marc’s
- Meijer
- Rite Aid

Pharmacists in Ohio can provide all vaccines recommended by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention’s Advisory Committee on Immunization Practices (ACIP) to the following individuals:

- All individuals ages 13 and older, without a prescription for the vaccine
- All individuals ages 7 through 12, with a prescription for the vaccine (pharmacists can provide flu vaccines for anyone over age 7 without a prescription)

Important Reminders

- Immunizations are covered under your medical benefit (i.e., not your prescription drug coverage). Because of this, we recommend asking the pharmacy to submit the order under your medical benefits.
- If the pharmacy has questions on how to enter your claim, they can call the pharmacy helpline at 1-800-922-1557 for assistance.
- Not all pharmacies stock all vaccines. While most will have vaccines for flu and pneumonia, they may not have other vaccines in stock and will need to order them. We recommend calling to check availability and to schedule an appointment.
