Supporting Considerations for Interim Housing Options

National Pan-Hellenic Council and Multicultural Greek Council
- Groups may stay in their existing houses, with the same expectation around occupancy in place until the new Greek housing opens in 2016
- Sigma Lambda Gamma will be impacted by Zeta Phi Beta’s decision regarding whether to move to interim housing or stay in the existing facility.
- For groups not currently housed: Individual conversations with these groups and Residence Life are strongly encouraged in order to establish expectations around interim housing.

Interfraternity Council
Harshman
- Allows for the chapters to be closest to their designated storage locations in Dunbar.
- Each fraternity’s rooms will be clustered together in a designated section on a floor. The remaining bed spaces on the floor will be filled by non-Greek students.
- Fraternities will be spread throughout the open floors within the complex.
- The space formally occupied by Honors can be utilized for programming and social space, and will be shared by all members of the Greek groups residing in Harshman. The Harshman Community Room will be available to reserve.
- Rooms will be double occupancy, with the exception of the president receiving a single room at the double rate. The 2013-14 Harshman room rate is $2,580 each semester for a double room.*
- Vacancy fines will continue to be assessed similar to the current practice ($1400 for 2014-15, $1600 for 2015-16.)

Falcon Heights
- Premium housing with 4 single bedrooms that share a suite
- Each fraternity’s suites will be clustered together in a designated section on a floor.
- Rooms will be single occupancy at the Falcon Heights single rate. The president will have a single within one of the suites, and will be charged the single rate.
- Vacancy fines will be the full, single room rate for a Falcon Heights single. For 2013-14, this cost is $3,620 per semester.*
- The overall damage fines and replacement cost for some services (keys) in Falcon Heights tends to be higher than older housing units.
- This option increases the number of beds some fraternities are required to fill.
- Reservable space within Falcon Heights is limited, so the majority of group meetings or events will need to happen away from the residence hall.
Panhellenic Council

Harshman
- Allows for the groups to be closest to their designated storage locations in Dunbar.
- Each sorority’s rooms will be clustered together in a designated section on a floor. As much as possible, all sororities will be housed within the same wing of Harshman with room clusters placed together on the wings. The floors will not be co-ed in order to address national guidelines for Panhellenic groups regarding visitation.
- There is ample reservable space in Harshman that can be utilized by the various groups. The space formally occupied by Honors can be utilized for programming and social space, and will be shared by all members of the Greek groups residing in Harshman. The Harshman Community Room is also an option that can be reserved.
- Rooms will be double occupancy, with the exception of the president receiving a single room at the double rate. The 2013-14 Harshman room rate is $2,580 per semester for a double room.*
- Vacancy fines will continue to be assessed similar to the current practice ($1400 for 2014-15, $1600 for 2015-16.)

Conklin North
- Upgraded housing option that offers air conditioned rooms
- Each sorority’s rooms will be clustered together in a designated section on a floor. All sororities will be housed within Conklin North with room clusters placed together and several sororities sharing a floor. Any bed spaces within Conklin North that are not used by sorority women will be used to house other non-Greek women. Conklin North will be a completely female community in order to address national guidelines for Panhellenic groups regarding visitation.
- There is limited reservable space in the building, although there are larger floor lounges that can be negotiated for use if the women within the community agree to a process.
- There is not a kitchen facility available in the building.
- Rooms will be double or single occupancy with rates set accordingly, with the exception of the president receiving a single room at the double rate. The 2013-14 Conklin North room rate is $2,750 for a double room.*
- Vacancy fines will be the full room rate for a Conklin North room. For 2013-14, this cost is $2,750 per semester for a double room.

*All rates are listed as 2013-14 figures. Rates may be adjusted annually and are approved by the BGSU Board of Trustees.
